Changing pattern of work-related musculoskeletal disorders in a chemical plant in Turkey. The aim of this study was to define occupational risk factors for work-related musculoskeletal disorders (WMSDs) and to investigate the changing pattern of WMSDs in a chemical plant. Two screening questionnaires were administered in order to detect possible cases of WMSDs and the results were evaluated by using a logical tree. We defined the work process by using the results of analyses of work processes and considered the follow-up of WMSD cases in order to define the changing pattern of WMSDs. It was observed that back pain was the most frequent complaint. In particular, 20.9% of those working in section S1 and 20.8% in section S4 reported one or more symptoms due to musculoskeletal disorders (MSDs). WMSDs f678ea9f9e
